Government Has No Alternative

Forced to Take Action in Regard to Civil Service Report

Ottawa, April 1.—Shortly after the meeting of the Commons this afternoon, the Premier made an important statement outlining the government's policy in regard to the Civil Service Report.

After referring to his own previous pronouncements as to the necessity of an investigation, the Premier said his Hon. friend Mr. Brodeur, was investigating his department, as far as his other duties would permit, in order to determine, in what respect it could be reformed. In the discharge of that duty one officer was suspended some weeks ago, and since the report of the commission has been laid on the table by his colleague, he had arrived at the conclusion that he must also suspend two other prominent officials. It was only just to the Deputy Minister, in this connection, to say that he had on two previous occasions tendered his resignation, but this morning again pressed his resignation on the Minister, who was considering the matter. The House was aware of very grave statements with regard to the honesty of the officials being investigated, and the matter was of such serious character that the Minister thought it unavoidable to deal with that part of the report, and recommended a royal commission to be issued to dislodge it. In order to have the facts properly investigated the administration had decided to this view and Walter Casgraves, Judge of Exchequer Court, had been appointed. He reminded the House that in appointing the Civil Service Commission the government was aware of the subject, which engrossed the government generally and had thought it advisable to appoint an absolutely impartial and disinterested commission and the result is a pretty broad and general report. The government will deal as soon as possible with the various questions brought to its attention in the report, but he could not say if it would be possible to go very far this session. The House is now sitting about four hours and all are anxious for the blessing of prorogation, if that is possible during the year 1908. The government's intention is to proceed as speedily as possible. On the broad question of Civil Service he understood although he had no opportunity to read the report, except as seen in the newspapers, the government had made representation on the subject although not embodied in the bill as in the case of superannuation for inmates. There is the idea being brought in here without specifications and it may require some time before a bill can be prepared on these lines. Subsequently the Premier announced that the suspended officials are J. U. Gregory, agent of the department at Quebec and J. F. Fraser, commissioner of lights, with headquarters in the same place. The one suspended some weeks ago is A. A. Owens, accountant of the department.

Mr. R. L. Borden asked whether the government was to deal with the department generally or solely with the matters advanced by the Civil Service Commission. He also asked if the government had come to the conclusion that as a matter of policy, they would adopt the system of competitive examinations by an independent commission. The Premier replied that an order in council would be brought down in respect to the first question. In regard to the second question, he thought it better before making any statement to have the report before him.

Footballers Hold Annual Meeting

Last evening in the rooms of the Railway Commercial College the Strathcona City Football Club held their annual meeting. There was a large attendance of supporters and players and the interest already taken augurs well for the success of this team during the coming season.

The following officers were elected: Presidents—Hon. A. C. Rutherford, E. W. Day, Rev. W. R. George, Captain Carsairs, T. A. Gregg, H. F. Sandeman, T. W. Lines, W. H. Shepard, A. Davies, Dr. Archibald, A. Duckham, O. Blain, Van Duren.

Hon. President—Major Mills.

President—Dr. Gregg.

Vice-President—R. H. Palmer.

Secretary—J. E. McGregor-Gardner.

Captain—S. Judge.

Vice-Captain—E. Carmichael.

Selection Committee—S. Nevin,

J. G. Alfred, A. Davison, Jr., A. McEwan, Capt. Vise-Capt. and Sec.

Dlegates to Alberta Association, E. C. Secretary and Captain.

Colors Red and White.

It was decided to make the membership fee one dollar per year as for merly and all members are requested to pay up before May 1st.

The outlook for the club for this season is most promising. Nearly all of last year's team are available besides a large number of new recruits from the Old Country, who should greatly strengthen them. Last season this club was successful in winning all games played but one and captured the inter-city championship. They also got into the semi-final in the Provincial League, with splendid chances of winning out, but lack of funds kept them from competing.

The next general meeting will be held in the Railway Commercial College rooms in the New Basman Block on Friday evening, April 10th. All football enthusiasts are invited to attend.

Tested Power With Match

Shawnee, Okla., April 1.—Boys playing near a half-carload of giant powder and dynamite caps at the Missouri and Kansas stock yards became involved in a dispute as to whether the powder was good or bad. They determined to test it and exploded a match. An explosion followed that was heard for miles.

The car was blown into fragments and people passing were blown from their feet and across the road. Six people were seriously injured, one Robert Gray, a negro child, having since died.

BLIZZARD STOPS TRAINS.

St. Paul April 1.—A special from Crookston, Minn., says the entire Red River Valley is in the grip of the worst blizzard of the winter. G.N. & N.W. railroads have been closed, the snow houses and all trains are late as the result. The storm is raging since last night. A foot of snow has fallen.

Alterations in Postal Service

We are informed by Mr. Thompson our Postmaster that an alteration has been made on the outgoing Sunday mail. Letters now go out by the Sunday evening train and the Edmonton mail is also takes across in the afternoon. Letters therefore post will be delivered in Edmonton on Monday morning's mail. With regard to the general Strathcona-Edmonton service, Mr. Thompson points out that in order to be delivered in Edmonton, by the morning delivery letter must be posted early in the afternoon in Stratcona. Mr. Thompson leaves the sorting of the local mail as late as possible but it must of course go across the river by the general mail wagon on the arrival of the afternoon train. Letters posted here go across the following morning. They do not seem however to be sent out from the Edmonton Post Office until the second morning. Some arrangement should be made whereby the Stratcona mail which leaves here at 8.30 in the morning is distributed in Edmonton that day.

CRIME CAUSED BY JEALOUSY.

Los Angeles, April 1.—Mrs. Helen Griffin, 28 years old, who had been a resident of Monroe since the beginning of the racing season at Santa Anita, was shot and killed yesterday by Mrs. L. Z. Dearman, whose husband has been racing horses at Santa Anita during the past season. Mrs. Dearman fired five shots, one of which took effect under her victim's left ear, killing her almost instantly. The motive for the shooting is admitted by Dearman to have been jealousy of her wife. The weapon used was a .32 calibre revolver.

RAILWAY WORK OPENS IN SOUTH

McLeod, April 1.—Contractor McDonald with a corps of assistants came in last night prepared to commence work at once on the C.P.R. cut-off between here and Lethbridge. Headquarters have been established here and the work of building the 30 miles of road will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Stations will be established along the route, and sub-contracts are now being let. It is the purpose of the C. P. R. to have the new road ready for service before the close of the summer season.

BRITISH VOLUNTEERS ABOLISH-ED.

London, April 1.—With the stroke of midnight Great Britain's volunteer army became a thing of the past, after an existence of 42 years, and a territorial army, introduced by Secretary Hardinge, reigns instead.

The volunteer forces throughout the country celebrated their last post at their respective headquarters by dinners and other celebrations the festivities, however, taking on somewhat of a sad character, owing to the disappearance of the old association.

Most of the gatherings were attended by veterans and friends of the service, who exchanged old memories. As midnight struck there were stirring scenes as to who would be the first to enlist in the new body, many hundreds being thus recruited.

In some cases practically the whole regiment took the new regimen to the new force.

Wms Lost And is Found

Mr. W. J. Fraser a well-known citizen had a rather fortunate experience yesterday. Many months ago he lost a horse and extensive advertising both here and in Leslie failed to procure the return of the animal. Yesterday as he was walking up the street Mr. Fraser's eye lit on a horse at a garage to a jockey which had a striking similarity to his lost quadruped. He immediately spoke to the driver and an examination of the bridle proved that the horse was the one which had been lost. Questioned the driver, a Galician, declared that he had bought the horse from a man named Campbell in Leduc. This did not satisfy Mr. Fraser as no Bill of Sale was produced and the horse was taken possession of. The man who had possession of the horse declared that he will produce Campbell. Whatever the outcome may be one thing is certain that the horse was illegally retained by some one and this sort of thing cannot be too severely dealt with in this locality. Unless we are to have the most stringent observation of the law the possibility of endless fraud is opened up.

Duma Members want More pay

St. Petersburg, April 1.—Following the lead of the legislators of P. L. and Washington, fifty members of the Russian Duma today introduced a bill for the increase of their salaries by the extension through the receipt of their present compensation of $5 a day. They complain that the sum they now receive is wholly inadequate to the St. Petersburg scale of living.

FIERCE LABOR RIOT.

Chicago April 1.—Several persons were severely injured in a riot which broke out at the Island Steel mills, in Indian Harbor, Ind., among six hundred Hungarians and Roumanians. For several hours the police were unable to disperse the mob. Reserves were called from east Chicago and five arrests were made. The two hundred Hungarian and Lithuanian discharged from the mills during the financial panic and who had failed to secure work when the plant was re-opened attacked the Roumanian employees as they left the company's grounds. Bricks and stones were used as weapons. When the police charged the crowd, the Hungarians turned and attacked them. Sergeant Bowen was struck and slightly injured by a brick.

Fatal Collision on I. C. R.

New Castle, N. B., April 1.—In a head-on collision between two inter-colonial trains at Derby Junction near here, late to-day one man was killed and several injured.

The dead: Bert Lamkey, of Starcourt; single; brakeman on the westbound special, killed on the engine.

Injured: Conductor Edward Vye, hurried through the door of the regular, badly hurt; Horatio Jardine Indian Town, a passenger, hurled through the door may die; Andrew McCabe, engineer, regular, and fireman of special, both badly hurt. The regular train was in charge of Conductor Vye, travelling in Indian Town and the special was in charge of Conductor Clifford Dixon.

It passed Derby Junction before the regular had time to take the branch line and a collision was inevitable.

The engine of the regular and a passenger car were badly damaged and four cars derailed.

Conservatives Meet

A largely attended meeting of Conservatives was held in Ross's Hall last night. Mr. J. J. Duggan, President of the Association was in the chair. After a few remarks by Mr. O. Bush who pointed out the prospects of Conservatism at the present time and declared that what the Conservative party had done for their own party in 1896 the Liberals would do for the Laurier Government at this election, viz: turn them out of power. Mr. Hyndman, the Conservative candidate for the Edmonton riding was called upon. Mr. Hyndman gave an instructive and practical address. He pointed out many instances that had occurred recently which showed the graft and corruption which was rampant at Ottawa. He dealt first with the Civil Service Commission report pointing out that the person was entirely friendly to the government politically. The revelations Mr. Hyndman said were sufficient to turn any government out of power even if they stood alone but there were a thousand and one other examples of mistake which could be cited. Turning to the Accounting in the Marine and Fisheries Department the speaker showed how a crowd of unknown men whom the Government had not even the addresses had been paid $2,000 for accounts. He showed conclusively how these outsiders had been paying on the public funds. The next talk with the timber limit demands and the already well-known facts with interesting details. He stated that a petition had been received from the settlers in the Riviere Qui Quatre district asking that ten million cubic feet limits should be removed there. This petition reached the Department of the Interior on January 28, 1904. The department replied that the limit referred to No. 1122 had been granted to A. W. Fraser the previous day. A. W. Fraser was represented by the Imperial Paper Company which was Mr. Sifton's brother-in-law.

Theodore Burrows, M.P. The shorter talk about the whole affair was that the money for the limits was not paid until 1st February following.

Mr. Hyndman said that he had been informed by Mr. John Walter that it was impossible to get a log in that district.

Referring to Mr. Ames W. Hyndman explained who that gentleman was from personal knowledge and testified to the great work he had done in preventing impersonation in Montreal. With regard to Mr. Borden's platform the speaker declared that it had been endorsed by every province. He next referred to the personal careers of some of the ex-ministers such as Mr. Sifton, Mr. Emerson, Sir Frederick Borden and Mr. Hyndman.

With reference to Strathcona's candidate Mr. E. W. Day, Mr. Hyndman paid a high tribute declaring that he would make an able, disinterested and creditable member, being a fine fellow who was seeking no selfish ends.

Mr. Hyndman's address was punctuated by applause.

The meeting thereafter was addressed by Mr. F. C. Jamieson who referred optimistically to the prospects of the party.

On the motion of Mr. R. H. Palmer it was arranged that the President should nominate a committee to wait on Mr. Morris the Edmonton Registrar to obtain information as to the organization system adopted in that city. The President nominated Mr. Dowless, Mr. Jamieson and Mr. Palmer.

A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Hyndman on the motion of Mr. Bush seconded by Mr. Shepard the meeting was adjourned till Wednesday, April 8th when the organization will be proceeded with and committees nominated.

Bad Storm in Saskatchewa

Emperor Gets A Raise

Berlin, April 1.—An authentic report is in circulation here that there will soon be introduced in the Prussian diet a bill raising the civil list of the Emperor. This list amounted to $3,930,000 a year, which sum is paid the emperor as the King of Prussia, as German emperor, a position which carries no salary. The explanation offered for raising the list is the increase in the cost of living, which is particularly heavy on the royal house because a large number of children and other persons are dependent on the purse of the monarch. In this connection it was learned today that the reports that the emperor had gone beyond his income and often called upon rich friends for temporary loans are incorrect. On the contrary His Majesty up to several years ago, saved each year a considerable sum from his income and invested it for his children.

Saskatoon, April 1.—The first blockade of winter occurred on the C.N.R. Prince Albert branch last night. The north-bound train was stalled for 24 hours below Husky, and yesterday's express south arrived forty minutes late. It is rumored the locomotives were in collision, but this officially denied.

G. T. P. HAS MONEY.

London, April 1.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Grand Trunk today it was announced that the whole fund required under the Grand Trunk guarantee for prairie and mountain sections and the Lake Superior Branch of the G. T. P. have been raised, exceeding 70,000 pounds which sum was not wanted now.

Indianapolis, March 31.—Two hundred and fifty thousand picks dropped from the hands of as many bituminous coal miners of the United States this evening, not to be used again until a wage settlement has been reached and a scale adopted between the members of the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators of the various fields with which it deals.

The situation does not indicate a prolonged strike. An open winter and industrial depression have left a large stock of coal on hand and the difference between the operators and the miners is very slight. It is practically agreed that the present wage scale will be continued, but some policies in connection with the change to night in the nature of the rights of the Mine's organization and the local Mine's organization between operators and miners have resulted in temporary suspension from work until a new wage scale is agreed to either by districts or by individual mines.

CURRENT COMMENT

In the House of Commons yesterday the Premier made a statement which we quote elsewhere, with regard to the Civil Service Commission's report from the Premier's statements it is apparent that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has no intention of carrying out the Commission's report and a new Commission has been appointed and Walter C. Ross, Judge of the Superior Court, has been appointed commissioner. A royal commission has ministry more power than an ordinary government commission so far as competing the appointment of commissioners in all goes, since a royal commission for all practical purposes is equivalent to a Court investigation. But what an apparent attempt to dupe the electorate of Canada the Premier's action unmakes! Twelve years ago was carried into power on board the good ship "Civil Service Reform." The very instant he reached the haven of power the vessel was scuttled and for twelve years, the Laurier Government have carried on unashamedly an aggravated form of the system which they condemned in opposition. But an election draws near. The people must be deceived and Sir Wilfrid Laurier has the opportunity to say "The Government will deal as soon as possible with the various questions brought to its attention in the report but he could not say if it would be possible to go very far this session."

Artful Sir Wilfrid Laurier! The general election looms large on the horizon. The Premier's intentions are obvious. The broken pledges of twelve years ago are to be resurrected, and the promises of twelve years ago are again to be held up before the electorate. For twelve years the Laurier administration have fostered the growth of the corruption which their own commissioners have exposed. The Premier now pretends that he longs for Civil Service Reform. He knows he can not, will not and dare not attempt to introduce it in the hope, however, that the promise will suffice to put his party in power again, and then Civil Service Reform may be laughed at, for another term of years. The Commission recommended that the service should be entirely freed from political favoritism or patronage. Sir Wilfrid knows that he dare not follow this course! For twelve years he has cultivated and nourished the "heeler" system, a political existence depends on the faithfulness of these heelers now in his hour of adversity. He dare not desert them and he will not attempt it. The promise of Civil Service Reform will be openly preached and the assurance of a continuation of the grafting system will be secretly whispered until, after the election. Then, in the very unlikely case of the government being endorsed, the continuity of twelve years will remain unbroken, the Civil Service Reform promises will be openly flouted and the same old gang will go on in the same old corrupt way. Sir Wilfrid Laurier declares that it was "the Government's intention to proceed as speedily as possible" he probably adds under his breath, "to attempt to goldbrick the electorate." Attempts may be made by apologists to excuse Sir Wilfrid and his government with the school boy defense "please Sir I they didn't know." It was their duty to know. If they failed in that duty they are as unworthy of the support of the country as it, what we believe to be the case had occurred, namely that they were perfectly cognizant of the condition of affairs and winked at it. The Bulletin in a half-shamed apology, attempts to excuse the government but the Bulletin is out hot-foot against Civil Service Reform. The Oliver Organ declares that the Government alone will be responsible for appointments in the Civil Service. The suggestion that the appointments should be made by an independent commission free of political bias is strenuously opposed.

Pathetic! and the Government which Parliament authorizes will be held absolutely and wholly responsible for the management of public affairs, whether the management be done directly by the government or indirectly through Commissions."

That is the position at present.

From Sir Wilfrid downward every member of the Government is personally responsible for the disgraceful state of affairs which the Civil Service investigation lays bare. It is not necessary to go the length that could easily be done and declare that the Government knowingly and purposefully created that state of affairs. Surely the conscience of Canada will turn with disgust from a government which after twelve years of rule on a platform of Civil Service Reform has been exposed as the Laurier Government has been by the Civil Service Commission. The proverb has it that countries get the government they deserve. Surely Canada deserves a fairer fate than to be ruled by graft and corruption.

TIT BITS.

"How did your husband get out of the building after he had drunk the gas tank?" asked the reporter.

"As nearly as he could remember it afterward," said the woman, "he went out through the roof."

Parson: "And who lives in your house, little man?"

Small Boy: "Father, mother, and Aunt Lou."

Parson (wishing to ascertain the relationship): "And which side is aunt on?"

Small Boy: "Sometime father's, sometimes mother's."

It all depends which is getting lick ed!"

Irene: "Why did you quarrel with Jack?"

Jackie: "Last night he proposed again!"

Irene: "What harm is there in that?"

Jackie: "Why I had accepted him only the night before!"

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indolent life of winter never always leads to a sluggish body, but the heat of summer in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and weakens the weaker parts of the circulation. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days' rest will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by all druggists.

It was their duty to know. If they failed in that duty they are as unworthy of the support of the country as it, what we believe to be the case had occurred, namely that they were perfectly cognizant of the condition of affairs and winked at it. ## Chronicle Literary Columns are whining "Kaa-pi chay-hayeh" (copy wanted) like tired bees, and most of the paper is blank as Mostred's shield.

Then I became respectable and turned to an office where there were no kings and no incidents except the daily manufacture of a newspaper. A newspaper office seems to attract every conceivable sort of person, to the prejudice of discipline. Zenana mission ladies arrive and beg that the editor will instantly abandon all his duties to describe a Christian life giving in a back slum of a perfectly inaccessible village; colonels who have been overpassed for a command sit down and sketch the outline of a series of ten twelve or twenty-four leading articles on seniority versus selection; missionaries wish to know why they have not been permitted to escape from their regular vehicles of abuse and swear at a brother missionary under special patronage of the editorial; we; stranded theatrical companies troop up to explain that they cannot pay for their advertisements, but that their return from New Zealand or Tahiti do so with interest; inventors of ancient punkah-pulling machines, cage couplings and unbreakable steel and axleless car with specifications in their pockets and hours at their disposal; tea companies enter and elaborate their prospectuses with the office pens; secretaries of ball committees clamor to have the glories of their last dance more fully expounded; strange ladies rustle in and say "Twant a hundred ladies, cards printed at once, please," which is manifestly part of an editor's duty; and every dissolute ruffian that ever tramped the Grand Trunk Road makes it his business to ask for employment as a proof reader. And all the time the telephone bell is ringing madly, and Kings are being killed on the continent, and empires are saying: "You're another," and Mr. Gladstone is calling down brimstone upon the British Dominions, and the little black copy boys are whining "Kaa-pi chay-hayeh" (copy wanted) like tired bees, and most of the paper is blank as Mostred's shield.

But that is the amusing part of the news. There are other situations, wherein none ever come to call and the thermometer walks inch by inch up to the top of the glass, and the office is darkened to just above reading height by the press machine, we are hot, of course, and nobody writes anything but accounts of assessments in the hill stations or obituary notices. Then the telegraph becomes a chilling terror, because it tells of the sudden deaths of men and women that you knew intimately, and the prickly heat covers you as with a garment, and you sit down and write: "A slight increase of sickness is reported from the Khanda Janata Khan district." The outbreak is purely sporadic in its nature and, thanks to the energetic efforts of the district authorities, is now almost at an end. It is, however, with deep regret we record the death of etc."

Then the sickness really breaks out and the less recording and reporting the better for the peace of the subscribers. But the empire and the kings continue to divert themselves as merrily as before, and the foreman thinks that a daily paper really ought to come out once in twenty-four hours, and all the people of the hill stations in the shade of their sparkling fountains have the glee of their last dance more fully expounded; strange ladies rustle in and say "Twant a hundred ladies, cards printed at once, please," which is manifestly part of an editor's duty; and every dissolute ruffian that ever tramped the Grand Trunk Road makes it his business to ask for employment as a proof reader. And all the time the telephone bell is ringing madly, and Kings are being killed on the continent, and empires are saying: "You're another," and Mr. Gladstone is calling down brimstone upon the British Dominions, and the little black copy boys

At night Saturday it began to rain and the lightning roared, and the thunder sounded like the machinery roared, and mounted their foreheads. "We see that all that, and we have decided that there was a light burning across the India isn't big enough for such as us."

"They certainly were too big for the office. Dravot's head seemed to fill both the room and Carnahan's shed. Let's come along and speak to him. He is coming back from the Dugument State," said the smaller of the two. "He was the man I had met in the Mhow train, and his fellow was the red bearded man of Marwar Junction. There was no mistaking the eyebrows of either of the beard of the other. I was not pleased because I wished to go to sleep not to squabble with leathers. "What do you want?" I asked.

"Half an hour's talk with you cool and comfortable, in the office," said the red bearded man. "We'll drink some tea—Contract doesn't begin yet Pesche, so you needn't look—but what we really want is advice. We don't want money. We ask you a favor, because you did us a bad turn when you sent us back, whatever it was, would not come off, though the loo dropped and the last type was set, and the whole round earth stood still in the choking heat with its finger on its lip, to wait the event."

I drew on the press room to the stilling offices with the maps on the walls, and the red haired man rubbed his hands. "That's something like," he said. "This was the proper shop to come to. Now, sir, let me introduce to you Brother Pesche. Carnahan, that's him, and Brother Daniel Dravot, that's me, and the less said about our professions the better, for we have been most things in our time. Soldier, sailor, compositor, photographer, proof reader, street preacher, and correspondents of the Backwoodsman when we thought the paper wanted one. Carnahan is sober, and so am I. Look at us first, and see that's our secret. It will save you cutting into my talk. We'll take one of your cigar apices, and you shall see us light Twatched the test. The men were absolutely sober, so I gave each of them a teardrop peg.

"Well and good!" said Carnahan of the eyebrows, wiping the froth from his mouth. "Let me talk now. Dan We have been all over India, mostly as on foot. We have been boiler fitters, as men can always be a king. We shall say those parts are ready to say King we find? "D'you want to wear King's coat?" and we will show him how to drill men, for that."

"We will submit that king and sise know better than anything else. Then we will submit that king and sise his throne and establish a dynasty."

"You'll be cut to pieces before you are fifty miles across the borders," I said. "You have to travel through

Afghanistan to get to that country,

it's one mass of mountains and peaks and glaciers, and no Englishman has been through it. The people are terribles, and even if you reached them you couldn't do anything."

"That's more like," said Carnahan.

"If you could think us a little more mad we would be more pleased. We have come to you to know about this country, to read a book about it, and to be shown maps. We want you to tell us that we are fools and to show us your books." He turned to the book cases.

"Are you at all in earnest?" I

"A little," said Dravot sweetly.

"A big map as you have got, even if it's all blank where Kafiristan is,

and any books you've got. We can read, though we aren't very educated."

(To be continued.)
